LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

High water to-day at 8:37 p. m.
Mr. F. A. Carlton, the George street plumber, is rejoicing on the arrival of a son and heir at his home yesterday.
Mrs. Ernest Crane of Machias, Me., is visiting in this city at the home of her father, Mr. George H. Stockin, No. 164 Carlisle street.
William M. Carr, pastor of St. Andrews' M. E. church, spoke at a temperance meeting last evening, held in the Congregational church, West Haven.

Mr. C. Francis Malone's beginners' class for young ladies and gentlemen meet for first lessons to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at Harmonie hall from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Miss Rosa Coogel of this city and Morris Rabinowitz of Waterbury were married last evening in Schadee & Pohlman's hall by Rabbi Rev. J. Levin of the Factory street temple.

City Sheriff R. J. Bunce has been appointed as chief marshal of the New Haven delegation of Odd Fellows, which is going to the Waterbury celebration. Sheriff Bunce was captain of the Light Guard and one of the founders of that company.

Allie Williams, the well known piano player, has just written a two step entitled "Queen of the Sound," which he has dedicated to the officers of the New Haven Steamboat company. The piece is published by C. M. Loomis Sons' of this city. The title page bears an excellent picture of the steamer Richard Peck.

CAUGHT IN A CELLAR.

Two Men With Beer in Their Possession in the Cellar of Cashion's Saloon.

Albert N. Rembold and Frank J. Newton were arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Dorian and McMahon and locked up, charged with violation of the Sunday liquor law. The men were found in the cellar of John Cashion's saloon on Putnam street, and in the possession of one of the men were found half a dozen bottles of beer. Both men were subsequently released on bonds. It is thought that a warrant will be issued and Cashion, the proprietor of the saloon, arrested within a day or two, charged with selling liquor on Sunday. For the first time in several months the officers of the Grand avenue precinct were yesterday unable to discover any violations of the Sunday liquor law and none were reported from police headquarters or the Dixwell avenue precinct.

THE SHEEP WRESTLING.

A Grotesque Parade, Fireworks and Plenty of Noise—The Wrestling a Tie Between '97 and '98—Many Fanciful Costumes. What strangers in town who were not "up to snuff" thought of the grotesque procession and red light celebration with accompaniment of Roman candles and gigantic crackers which took place last Saturday night is hard to say. To old New Haveners, however, who are cognizant with student ways, it was at once apparent that the jollification was the annual Sheff. "rush" or class wrestling.

The members of '97s and '98s began forming in line near the University club, and at about 8 o'clock the procession headed by the Second regiment band and a large party of seniors dressed in fantastic costumes started down Chapel street, the line of march being lit up by various sorts of fireworks, while "rah! rah! and Brek-ke-kek, etc., rent the air with ear splitting sound. The line marched down Chapel to Orange and then out Orange to the lot at the corner of Grove and Orange street, where the wrestling took place. In the lightweight class Hurlburt '97s. won from Grace '98s. In the middleweight contest there was a tie between Tuttle '97s. and Campbell '98s. Sheldon '98s. won from McCandless '97s., thus making the wrestling a tie between the two classes.

The wrestling over the crowd of noisy students marched out Orange street to Chapel, up Chapel to Temple, then across the green on Temple, up Elm to College, and out College to the old Sheff building on Grove street, where after some dancing, college singing and class cheering the crowd broke up. Some of the costumes worn were very amusing, among them being that of a Trilby, a ballet dancer, an African savage, a S.S.S. heavy artillery and clown costumes innumerable.

The Bachelor of Arts.

"The Bachelor of Arts," the new monthly magazine devoted to university interests and general literature, is meeting with the very favorable reception its merits deserve. The table of contents of the October issue, which is No. 5 of volume 1, is very inviting. The magazine has the cordial endorsement of such lights in American literature as W. D. Howells, E. S. Steadman and other famous Americans, while its merits are recognized in hearty words of praise from many of our leading periodicals and most prominent daily newspapers. The magazine is of general interest, as well as being a first class college magazine, and it is intended for the alumni rather than the inmates of the colleges. The Home Journal remarks: "Every college graduate should consider it a duty to be on the subscription books of the magazine." It is beautifully printed on good paper. The board of editors are: John Seymour Wood, editor; Walter Camp, editor of athletic department; Edward S. Martin, author of the notes on university matters; and Henry G. Chapman is its manager. Frank A. Kellogg, Yale '82, has been in town for a number of days taking subscriptions to this excellent publication.

Imperial "Hygienic" Fluid, The Disinfectant, Deodorizer and Antiseptic, has jumped into favor with students. Dormitory air thoroughly purified. Unequaled as lotion or liniment for athletes when used clear. Read physicians' endorsements. Druggists, $2.00.

New Haven, Monday, Sept. 30, 1895.

The weather to-day—Likely to be fair.

TELEPHONE No. 33.

When truth commands merchants, merchants command trade.

What Is Known these business days as a

"Fall Opening," will take place at the Big Store on Wednesday and Thursday, October 2nd and 3rd. Ladies who want to see the grandest and most vivid definition of the word "Opening," will, of course, be present. Kindly keep a lookout for particulars.

No Question about our Silks and Dress Goods catching the trade of "knowing" women. And it's so much better to be caught by worth than by wily words. Only the best merchants hold and help their customers through the inherent worth of their wares.

The daily increasing company of merry shoppers makes us wish that all women might be wise buyers of Silks and Dress Goods.

Main Entrance, Left Aisle.

About Linings

This stock is just replenished with every new fall thing for dress linings.

Daylight Square.

Better Wait for the Millinery "Opening"

unless you belong to that fortunate class who buy their Fall Hats and Bonnets here—any way. Don't suspect for an instant, that we would disappoint your ideal for a Fall hat, simply because "Opening" days are ahead of us.

Cloak Culture

is indeed one of the marvelous industries of the Big Store. It has made such a favorable impression upon the feminine mind in all that relates to top garments of any sort, that advertising on paper seems needless, but it isn't. Because there are still many sensible women that don't know the facts.

Bleached Cotton

MALLEY-NEEDY &amp; CO.

Fall Gloves are here in all the freshness and fineness of fashion.

Many of our customers crave the Paris "Xavier Jouvin" Gloves. So we've filled up again with the good old styles and with some enticing new ones. Kid's gone up? Yes. We sighted the rise, though, and bought before it came. Result: Same old prices.

These are the new Gloves.

L'Adrienne, 12 button length in suede, white and black. Price $2.75. In 7 hook black lace. Price $2.00.

Vassar, 8 button lengths in suede, all colors. Price $1.85. Four-button lace with embroidery. All colors and combinations, $1.65.

One specially attractive feature of fall gloves, is the back-embroidery of silk in same color as gloves, or contrasting colors. Novelties in this line appear in the following descriptions of absolutely new gloves, fresh from European factories. Cut, make, and fit positively correct. As compared with past values in such gloves, they're about 1-3 better.

At 75 c. a pair

German Lambkin Gloves either 4 button, or 5 hook Foster lacing, in black, tan and brown.

At $1.00 a pair

Four-button Lambkin Gloves with silk embroidered backs, 5 hook Foster lacing and 4 button plain backs, in black, tan, mode, red and brown. Also 4 button P. K. white Gloves with black embroidery. Misses' Gloves in 4 button, 5 hook and 3 button P. K. all colors.

At $1.25 a pair

Real French Kid Gloves from the best maker in Grenoble, France. 4 button with plain or embroidered backs, the new zigzag wrist, (shown only by us) also velvet sueded in plain and embroidered. 4 button and 3 button Mousquetaires. Colors, black, tan, mode, gray, brown, red, pearl, yellow, white.

At $1.35 a pair

We sell 7 hook Foster lacing glove, made of the finest French Kid, in every color. Our regular customers for Fountain quality find these a great deal better than our previous gloves.

That Empty House

all new and sweet needs naught but furnishings complete.

But if the house is not new. If it needs only a new piece here and there, we're with you. A Piece or Parlor Suit; Cupboard or Chamber Suit; Rugs or Royal Wiltons; Doylies or Draperies, we're ready. Completely and abundantly ready to replenish all homes.

Two Furniture Floors have talked and trotted their peerless products over the whole town for a solid week. Now they're ready for another week.

The Carpet Hall was never so well prepared to suit the sentiment of people about floor coverings. Mats or magnificent Carpets; Oil Cloths or Oriental Rugs, everything forthcoming at prices that please.

The Upholstery Room turned topsy turvy for the sake of necessary improvements and more comfortable shopping, still holds its own in that line of trade and is rapidly getting to rights again.

A Tale of the Tables.

Monday morning three of the Bargain Tables will be given up to Fall Jackets for Misses and Ladies. $2.98 Jackets on one table. $3.98 Jackets on another. $5.00 Jackets on a third.

We think the value very high for the price. See what you think.
